Preparation Week	Mid-Session StuVac	Final StuVac	Final Assessment Period
Each faculty will determine its Preparation Week strategy. However, no summative assessment is allowed in Week 1. Week 1 Preparation Week activities may include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Orientation activities * Academic transition activities * Provision of course / subject information in non-class settings e.g. readings, quizzes, podcasts, videos etc * On-campus preparatory activities e.g. diagnostic testing (including OPELA), lab orientations, general induction activities at the course / discipline level must not include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Course / subject assessment 	Students must only be required to undertake normal study patterns in StuVac week, where catch-up classes are scheduled for missed classes earlier in the teaching period due to public holidays or emergencies¹. Faculties may schedule short activity-based learning activities in this period. Students on professional practice placements during this scheduled review week will not be eligible for StuVac. Mid-Session StuVac: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Will include one day on which classes may be scheduled to make up for those missed due to public holidays or University emergencies in the first half of the session¹. * Faculties must not schedule classes. * Faculties must not schedule assessment submission deadlines or examinations in this period. * Faculties may schedule activity-based learning such as fieldtrips, etc. in this period. Students must be advised of such activities at the beginning of the teaching session, as part of the subject outline. Faculties must have a process for managing activity-based learning clashes. * Students on professional experience placements in the scheduled mid-session StuVac are not eligible for StuVac. In the event that a teaching session has two public holidays on the same weekday, make up classes can be held in both StuVac weeks. ¹Public holiday make-up classes for block teaching activities may be scheduled at the same day and time in any later teaching week of the session, provided they do not create a timetable clash for students taking other teaching activities.	Students must only be required to undertake normal study patterns in StuVac week, where catch-up classes are scheduled for missed classes earlier in the teaching period due to public holidays or emergencies. Faculties may schedule review sessions for students but attendance will not be compulsory. No new material can be introduced to students in the final StuVac. Students on professional practice placements during this scheduled review week will not be eligible for StuVac. Final StuVac: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Will include one day on which classes may be scheduled to make up for those missed due to public holidays or University emergencies in the second half of the session. * Faculties must not schedule classes. * Faculties must not schedule assessment deadlines in this period. * Faculties may schedule non-compulsory review / revision sessions for students. * Faculties must not introduce any new material in this week (with the exception of the catch-up class schedule). * Students on professional experience placements in the scheduled final StuVac are not eligible for StuVac. The Main Calendar 10 week Summer (SUM) session does not have a final StuVac week. Faculties can schedule Summer make-up classes for public holidays or University emergencies on an alternate day/time suitable to students but faculties must have a process for managing make-up class clashes with other subjects.	Central exams will be scheduled in final assessment periods and faculties may also use this period to finalise other forms of assessment. Final assessment period may be used for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Centrally conducted examinations * Completion of project and other major assessment works * Faculty-based assessments and examinations Faculties must have a process for managing central examinations and faculty-based examination / assessment clashes.
