

Bachelor of Nursing

A nursing degree is your first step towards a vibrant, diverse and in-demand career. Nurses are a vital part of the health care system with nearly 300,000 registered nurses in Australia working in hospitals and community settings – such as residential care, home care, general practice, clinics and public health.

As a UTS Nursing student you'll develop clinical and communication skills, professionalism, leadership and critical thinking. By the time you graduate, you'll be a competent, responsible and respectful practitioner, ready to deliver person-centred care.

Learn from the best

UTS is leading the way when it comes to nursing education – we're ranked #1 in Australia for our academic reputation in nursing and midwifery[^]. UTS is home to a number of leaders in the nursing profession who are ready to share their expertise with students. Our courses are led by dynamic and highly qualified teaching staff, all with extensive experience in clinical, education, policy or research roles.

World-class facilities

As a nursing student, you'll have the opportunity to gain new skills, collaborate within a real-world environment, and practice using the latest equipment, facilities and technologies. Feel like a nurse from day one in our clinical practice laboratories and simulation units that look and feel exactly like hospital wards, aged care facilities and community health settings.

What will clinical placements look like?

We've developed a clinical placement program that will lead you to success. You'll complete 840 hours of clinical placement embedded into 7 subjects and gain hands-on experience in some of our 100+ partner hospitals and health clinics before graduating.

First year	Second year	Third year
120 hours over one clinical placement	320 hours over 4 clinical placements	400 hours over 2 clinical placements

Industry-connected

Beyond UTS, we're affiliated with more than 100 clinical facilities across NSW. This includes all major hospitals in Sydney. These professional connections provide clinical placements for students like you, and they're a great starting point for you to build your professional network.

A career for life

Nursing is an incredibly unique career – go on to work in diverse clinical specialty areas such as community health, emergency, intensive care, aged care, mental health, operating theatres and paediatrics. Career progression opportunities include working as a clinical nurse consultant, clinical nurse specialist, clinical nurse educator, nurse manager, nurse practitioner or rural and remote practice nurse. Registered nurses also work in research and in leadership positions, such as nurse unit managers.

“Many healthcare workers I’d spoken to recommended UTS – they knew nurse colleagues who had studied here and entered the workforce ready to dive in. I had also seen UTS students in different locations across Sydney and knowing that UTS had a vast network of clinical placement locations was a drawcard.”

Fees and financial assistance

As a domestic student, you’ll study in a Commonwealth Supported Place – the Australian Government will fund some of the cost of your study, while you’ll pay a student contribution and other fees direct to UTS. The good news? The HECS-HELP loan scheme lets you defer the cost of your student contribution until you reach a set income threshold. What’s more, the UTS Financial Assistance Service can help you get on top of your personal finances, giving you more time to focus on study.
